MISS HUMPHREY WRITES OF AN ANCIENT SPANISH FORTRESS

SCENE OF MORGAN'S BATTLE

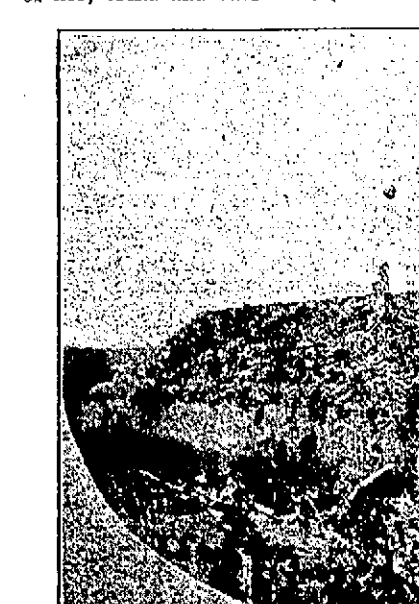

Noted Welch Free Booter Captured the Fort After a Bitter and Bloody Battle.

Miss Mary Humphrey who leaves tonight for her duties in the government hospital on the Canal Zone has written an interesting account of a visit to old Ft. Lorens. This ancient fortification was built by the Spaniards in the sixteenth century and was the scene of many a bloody fight between both natives and English free booters who were the scourge of those southern seas. Miss Humphrey gives us a graphic description of the scenes she witnessed of the fallen glory of this fortification. Her letter is as follows:

century and commanded the entrance to the interior of the Isthmus by means of the Chagres river. During the 16th century Spain held the balance of power among the nations. Her possessions were world-wide. England and France were jealous and combined to cause her downfall. Spain had gotten in to her possession nearly all of the land surrounding the Caribbean Sea. This the English and French would not permit without a protest, so men of both nations formed an association of a piratical nature to prey upon the Spaniards and wrest whatever they could from their possession. The men who formed this association became known in time as buccanniers. Their code of laws was simple. It bound them to a common participation in the necessities of life; looks and bars were prescribed military genius of Morgan and the daring disposition of his buccanniers. Built on Rock The fort is built on a rock 90 feet above sea level, with perpendicular walls on the seaward side and a deep moat on the landward side. Morgan chose the point on the seaward side where there were the fewest cannon located and that meant seemingly the most inaccessible point, the rock being almost perpendicular. He made ladders by which to climb this precipitous rock and in the face of cannon and firearms of all kinds he and his men scaled the rock and the stone walls crowning the rock, entered and captured the fort. To look at the point which he scaled, seems an impossible accomplishment.

Two Ways There are two ways of reaching the fort. The nearest is by going direct on the coast, but the Caribbean is never very calm and in a small launch which is tossed like an eggshell on the waves, but few persons can make the trip without being seasick so the preferred way is the longer and more tedious one of going to Gatun by train and, taking a launch there, to go down the Chagres river to the fort, traveling on two sides of a triangle to reach it.

Winding Course The river has a tortuous course, taking fifteen miles to cover seven in actual onward distance. The banks are low most of the distance and covered with luxuriant vegetation. At one point the rocks rise to a considerable altitude on one side, and are covered with banana trees. All along the route were natives in cayugas, or more familiarly called dugouts, collecting banana bunches. RR to be loaded at Gatun into cars and carried to Colon or Panama, where they are shipped to the northern market on the Isthmus.

Words cannot describe the beauty of the scenery on that river trip. The strange tropical plants, trees covered with gorgeous purple, yellow, red and pink blossoms, make a brilliant picture. The Little Village. On the base of the rock on which the fort is located is a village of perhaps one hundred huts, all made of bamboo sticks and palm leaves for thatching. These are merely a shelter from sun and rain, being utterly devoid of any furniture. The natives eat and sleep on the floor. What cooking they do, and it is small, is done outside on a charcoal brazier. These people live the veritable life of the hill for "they neither toil nor spin." What revenue they have is obtained from gathering and selling bananas. The village has a church building which was used in times past by the Catholics for service but is abandoned now. There is also a school building which showed signs of being used at the present time. Razor backed hogs, baby pigs, dogs, chickens, cows, ponies, parrots and parakeets ran riot over the village, together with children in all stages of nakedness.

The Climb to Fort After reinforcing ourselves by devouring numerous sandwiches and other good things, we started on our climb up the hill to the fort. On the crest of the hill we were confronted with the outer walls of the moat. To all appearances the moat never was filled with water but was built to be a dry moat. The draw bridge is entirely gone only the holes in the walls of the castle gate show where it once was hung. Our entrance to the castle had to be by means of a ladder. To climb a ladder of eighteen feet or more was no small feat for the female portion of the party. It was done in fear and trembling but with complete success.

About Two Acres The fort covers a space of about two acres. A part of the buildings are in ruins but the larger part are well preserved. We explored numerous dungeons, some of which were in total darkness. Nearly all of the ceilings were arched exhibiting some excellent masonry work. In the court yard was a tank built of masonry, at a rough estimate, about fifteen feet long by ten in width and of unknown depth because it contained a quantity of water. This tank was built to hold the water supply in time of a siege. This court yard also contained numerous piles of cannon balls and bomb shells. Parts of cannon were lying on the ground near the walls overlooking the sea. The walls are remarkably well preserved and very picturesque in their covering of vines, moss and ferns.

Built of Brick It was a surprise to find that the walls were built largely of brick and not over a foot and a half thick. The bricks are quite as well preserved as the stone used in the masonry work. There was no pretense toward architectural embellishments in the building of the castle. The exterior being perfectly plain and nearly all of the buildings being of but one story. It certainly was built for resistance and protection.

Out to Sea After exploring the interior to our satisfaction we re-entered the launch and rode out into the Caribbean to get a view of it from that side and to see the point where Morgan and his followers performed their daring feat.

Looking down from the ramparts it seemed impossible enough but from the sea it was far more so. The view of the fort from the sea is extremely picturesque—a sight well worth travelling many miles to see.

JUNE EXPENSE WAS LOWER THAN USUAL

Maintenance of State School for De-pendents Cost Less—$1,972.91 for Blind Institute.

During the month of June there was a considerable decrease in the cost of maintaining the state institutions for dependents. The total amount of the bills audited at a recent meeting of the state board of control was $57,736.61, of which amount $1,972.91, went to the maintenance of the State school for blind here. The expenses were smaller than usual but the fact that there was no teachers' pay-roll, it being the summer season, accounts for that. The amounts for the several institutions are as follows:

State hospital, Mendota.....	$ 7,226.45
Northern hospital, Waukegan.....	9,206.50
School for deaf, Delavan.....	2,407.29
School for blind, Janesville.....	1,972.91
Industrial school, Waikeshia.....	4,865.01
State prison, Waupun.....	11,445.05
Public school, Sparta.....	3,092.18
Home for feeble minded.....	9,050.26

NUMBERS STAY AWAY FROM BAND CONCERT

Do Not Enjoy Excellent Program When Uncomfortable and Surroundings Are Noisy.

Many persons remained away from the band concert last evening, while still others heard but a small portion of the program, because it was rendered on the Corn Exchange. Of the crowd a few found seats on the grass and others took the edges of the sidewalks along the gutters as settees on which to rest their limbs, tired by standing or walking on the hard pavements. Some heard the entire concert, but these same ones would have enjoyed it more had they been able to listen to it in the park, where the surroundings are fresh and clean and less noisy. Pieces were interrupted at times by the passing of the Janesville street cars between the larger part of the crowd and the band and at others by the rumbling past of Interurban cars, not more than a few yards from the bandstand.

PETER DRAFAHL IS TO BE REAPPOINTED

Overbeck Says Entire Force Should Be Renamed and That Laws Are Now Violated Recklessly.

Peter Drafaht, together with the other seventy-five game wardens who were thrown out of work about a month ago by a lapse in the department will in all likelihood be reappointed soon and again be in the service of the state protecting the game in this section. State Game Warden Overbeck, it is said, has stated that at present, there being no one to enforce the game laws they are being recklessly violated and it is very probable that the entire number of ex-game guardians are to again be put in office. He says that if changes are to be made in the personnel of the force it will not be done in re-appointing but after that in the usual manner. The funds to support the department are very low and it was probable that the wardens would have been given vacations during the summer.

TAKES INTEREST IN THE STREETS

COMMUNICATION ON VARIOUS SUBJECTS OF LOCAL INTEREST

NEED A STREET SWEEPER

Compliments Paid to the Old Soldiers—Will Meet Mrs. John A. Logan.

Editor Gazette: Since much rubbish and dirt have been piled up on our streets, it is said by many who ought to know that when sprinkling is done here, there is too much done, making the streets and crossings very muddy, and that too much wet puts the air in an unsanitary condition, particularly as the streets are never well cleaned. It is true that the broom, hoe, brush, and shovel in the hands of men working for the city will not keep the streets even cretially clean. Competent experienced men here, and visitors from other large cities say the street cleaning machine is the only thing to do the work as it should be done, and more economically than is done at now.

A New Theory Is there anything in the way of applying machinery to clean the streets? Does the constituency object? By the way, what rapid strides for America, a better and consequently a happier people, if this constituency could be eliminated wholly in the political field. Should not all of the people, except appointive, be delegated to the people, and of the people, and for the people, voting directly, ignoring all office seekers? And then as we see it, the whole people will be the constituency. The official high or low can work in the light of right, as God has given him to understand. May God "Old Fogey" help us in this. We miss his communications in your valuable paper; there is character behind his sayings.

Better Conditions Do you note dress conditions of all classes in Janesville is much improved? The laborer, the artisan, clerk, business man, indeed all classes, men, women and children, have better garments all around; very few shabbily clad are in evidence, which denotes prosperity. Good taste, good deportment, fine looking young men, handsome ladies, sweet little girls and good boys. The pure white gowns by the ladies, younger and elder, predominates; all very pretty. The highest of tastes prevail.

Good for Murphy We note the good work done on the city railway by Supt. Murphy. Give the gentleman half a chance and he will make it a whole and complete thing.

Chesterfield politeness is very observant in this city. It pays here, or elsewhere, wherever we have been. The Grand Army substation, that of raising the back of the right hand to visor of cap or hat, is a good manner of recognition in passing friends or acquaintances, and more quickly done than coming the hat to ladies.

Police Good Police experience tells, better order and more close observance of laws. The Gazette has always favored a larger police force and now the city has acquiesced in those suggestions, in the light of observed necessities, we have a class of gentlemanly appearing and courteous line of officers from top to bottom. It is up to them now to enforce obedience to all laws, without fear or favor. The people will sustain and honor them. "By their works they shall be known."

Basket Picnic While unloading this little thinking we forgot to refer to the basket picnic of the Grand Army men to take place at Ho-No-Ne-Gah park on the 29th inst., as stated in your paper. These gatherings are held annually of late years and are increasing in interest. Inspiring songs, speeches, army stories, parades, touching of elbows, commingling in all things, star's afresh that comradeship known only to those who locked weapons with the enemy in the great Civil war.

Still Young These gatherings in ripened peace and plentifulness scores renewed youth in every one of the men. Some of the G. A. R. men are really renewing their age. In appearance are really growing younger. Some positively fine-looking—some in particular, whom we met yesterday, on a question-ask as to his age, replied that he did not know when or where he was born. But his mother told him (mothers usually know) that he was born in New York state and is hugging 73, while he appears to be but 60.

Too Much Rain Good many are complaining, too much rain, and are chronic weather kickers. This reminds us of our venerable and highly respected townsman, Mr. —, a prominent retired railway official who always has a ready reply to weather kickers. It is, "Let us take it as it comes and call it all good."

Go to Chautauqua Our local post of the G. A. R. with their families are invited to be the guests of the Chautauqua Assembly on the 28th inst. at a reception given by Mrs. John A. Logan. Many of the veterans fought with and under the immediate command of the illustrious Gen. Logan and we hear that one of his staff on the Georgia campaign is or was a resident of Janesville. The post feels that a high compliment has been paid them and have accepted the invitation. They will attend in a body. Have appointed committee to arrange for the occasion. Will have special cars on the street railway for themselves and families. Very sincerely yours, "CITIZEN."

BADGER LODGE ONLY FANNED THE FLAMES

Janesville Lodge Members of the Royal Arcanum Started Big Movement.

By their action last Monday night in entering a formal protest against the increase in rates of the Royal Arcanum, the Badger lodge placed itself on record as opposed to the new action of the ruling of the supreme lodge of the order. Following in the footsteps of this movement on the part of the Janesville lodge comes the general move of the Pennsylvania members of the order at Philadelphia yesterday. Five thousand of the policy-holders in the Keystone state assembled to make a formal protest against the new order of affairs. Since the action of the supreme lodge of the order at Atlantic City last May, increasing the assessments of members 40 years old and more, trouble has been brewing, and the meeting yesterday, which was arranged by William Wilhelm of Pottsville, Pa., was the culmination of the dissatisfaction. It was decided at the meeting to arrange for a special meeting of the grand council of Pennsylvania at which a move will be made looking toward cooperation with the grand councils of other states for calling a special meeting of the supreme council to rescind the action of the May meeting in regard to the increased assessments.

Should the movement to have the special meeting of the supreme council rescind its action last May be declared yesterday that 30,000 of the 37,000 members of the order in Pennsylvania would withdraw and form a separate organization. It was stated at the meeting that the increased payments to be required of members more than 40 years old was designed to drive out of the order the older members, who had been in the organization for many years and were largely responsible for its present prosperity. In order to obtain a special meeting of the grand council it is necessary that the request should be signed by twenty-five councils of the state and more than this number were represented at the meeting yesterday. To force Grand Regent F. B. Wolkersham to call a special meeting of the supreme council it is necessary that the grand councils of seven states join in the request and those in attendance at the meeting yesterday expressed themselves as confident this number could be easily obtained.

Facts for the Settler Regarding Cost and Profit of Farming in Western Canada

In presenting the subject we have to deal with in which prospective settlers and investors are most interested, and in order to answer the questions as to cost and profit from grain growing in western Canada, we copy the following table given out by the manager of the Government Experiment Farm, carefully prepared after years of experience in the cost of producing one acre of wheat, which in this case is $9.44. REMEMBER that these figures are based upon hiring all the work done in connection with the farm. If the settler performs the labor himself then the only outlay in cash would be for seed, twine and threshing, in which case he would save nearly two-thirds of the cost of production. We have based our figures on an average yield of 35 bushels per acre (which is less than the average for the past 12 years) at a price of only 75c per bushel.

COST OF PRODUCTION OF ONE ACRE OF WHEAT.
Breaking the prairie sod.....	$3.00
Harrowing.....	.20
Seed wheat, 1 1/2 bushels @ $1.00 per bushel.....	1.25
Sowing.....	.25
Seedling, binding including twine.....	1.25
Shocking.....	.25
Threshing @ 5c per bushel.....	2.10
Hauling to market, 2c per bu., 70 interest on $10—cost of one acre of land.....	.60
One year's taxes on one acre of land.....	.04

Total cost of production one acre.....	$9.44
35 bushels of wheat per acre @ 75c.....	$26.25
Net profit per acre.....	$16.81

The cost of production the second year will be reduced to $7.99 per acre, inasmuch as second plowing can be done for $1.25 per acre instead of $3.00 for sod breaking.

The above figures extended over 640 acres will give the following remarkable result:
640 acres, 35 bushels per acre being 22,400 bushels, @ 75c per bushel.....	$16,800.00

Cost of production at $9.44 per acre.....	6,169.60
One year's net profit.....	$10,630.40
Original cost of land $10 per acre.....	6,400.00

Leaving a net profit of...$4,230.40. The land has paid for itself. You have your $4,000, the cost of the land, returned to you, all expense of farming paid and a clear gain of $4,230.40. The land is now under a high state of cultivation and worth $15 per acre or $9,600. For full particulars or information call or write

FOOD COMMISSIONER WARNS THE DEALERS

Inform Merchants About What Action Will Be Taken in Cases Where Adulterated Food Is Sold.

Dairy and Food Commissioner Emery has sent out letters of notification to dealers of Wisconsin, informing them that certain food products found upon their shelves had been analyzed by the state chemist and found to be adulterated and if sold it would be in violation of the law. These cases will be followed up and as quickly as practicable an inspector will call at the places in question and if these adulterated foods are still on shelves their prosecution will follow. This gives the dealers a chance to clear their stores of bad goods and avoids the possibility of prosecuting a man for what he did without any knowledge or intention of violating the poor food statutes, although the law allows prosecution on the basis of the discoveries already made by the commissioner. In this manner Commissioner Emery assists the dealers to purify their stocks and he co-operates with them in enforcing the laws, rather than making war upon them.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, July 14, 1865.—A commission has been sent to Andersonville, Georgia, to inquire into the alleged inhumanities to our soldiers with a view of bringing those immediately implicated, to a speedy justice.

Lousy.—If anyone is skeptical on the question of chinch bugs, we advise him to examine a field of grain where they are at work, and he will find the ground lousy with them. Nothing but a fine tooth comb or a change of crops would begin to meet the emergency of cleaning them out.

Freighting on the Milwaukee & Prairie du Chien Road.—We learn with pleasure that the freight business on the Milwaukee & Prairie du Chien Road, to this place, is largely on the increase. Last evening the train from Milton consisted of twenty-eight heavily laden cars. The company has an excellent agent here in the person of Mr. Alexander, who is constantly winning friends to himself and the road.

Personal.—Wm. T. Leitch, Jr., President of the State Firemen's Association; Wm. H. Holt, chief engineer of the Madison Fire Department, and James E. Fisher, foreman of the Mendota Engine Co. No. 1 of Madison, were in the city last evening, making arrangements for the grand tourment of the State Firemen's Association, to be held on the 23d and 24th of August, in this city.

Also Mr. Hoyt, secretary of the State Agricultural Society, making arrangements for the State Fair.

Trials of the Marsh Harvester.—Yesterday afternoon we had the pleasure of witnessing the trial of a Marsh Harvester, in the town of Harmony, about three miles east of the city. The peculiarity of this machine is that it dispenses entirely with the use of a rake, the grain being carried by means of an apron directly to the hands of the binder or binders. Two good binders have no difficulty whatever in binding the grain as fast as it is cut, thereby simplifying and lightening the labor of the harvest field, vastly. The test was made by the agent, Mr. A. J. Lucky, in the presence of quite a large assemblage of people. A piece of rye with long heavy straw was selected, but notwithstanding several apparent disadvantages it worked very handsomely being of light draft, cutting well and presenting the grain to the binders promptly. We think all present were much pleased with the working of the machine, and we are quite sure the ladies who have the heavy indoor work to do at harvest time will vote for it with both hands, as three men can easily get along with a good sized harvest.

CIGARETTE CAUSE OF MURDER

Quarrel Over Smoking It Leads to Killing and Asphyxiant Escapes.

St. Louis, Mo., July 14.—Raymond W. Stough, a bricklayer, who came to St. Louis from Concord, N. C., a few months ago, was shot and instantly killed during a quarrel over cigarette smoking in a rooming house. T. John Preasier, a palmer, who witnesses declare fired the shot, escaped after a long flight through the streets pursued by a roommate of Stough.

PHYSICIANS ARE AMAZED

At Marvelous Cures Made By Milwaukee Healer.

PEOPLE GREATLY EXCITED

Enormous Mail Received by Man Who Heals the Sick Without Charge.

Milwaukee, July 14.—Amazed by the remarkable work the Great Cooper has been doing in this city, local physicians have tried to take steps to shake the wonderful influence he has over the people. The doctors have even gone so far as to threaten prosecution, but as he does not accept any money for his services and does not give out any medicine himself, they have been powerless to interfere. Cooper created considerable amusement at the expense of the doctors by asking them why they did not dare to write their prescriptions in plain English so that the people would know what they were taking.

Since the interest has become so widespread that Cooper cannot meet the people personally, he is receiving an enormous mail daily and keeps a large force of stenographers employed in answering it. In the meantime stories of marvelous cures continue to pour in. Mr. R. Bernard, living at No. 703 Cedar street, said he had been troubled with rheumatism for six years. Recently one of his feet became so inflamed and painful that he could not bear his weight upon it. In two weeks after he had begun taking Cooper's medicine, every trace of rheumatism had been driven from his system.

Another very remarkable cure was reported by Mrs. A. M. Hunt, of No. 1173 Teutonia avenue, who has been sick for nine years with kidney and stomach trouble. She was treated by nearly all the leading physicians here without receiving any benefit. Each physician had diagnosed her case differently. Some said it was female trouble, another said it was a floating kidney, and some were honest enough to admit that they did not know the cause of her ailment. The last physician employed insisted on performing a surgical operation, which he declared was the only means of relief. In her despair she wrote to Cooper, and in less than one week she was apparently as well as ever, and has not had a sick day since she began using the medicine Cooper advised her to use.

Mrs. Noraberg, living at No. 214 Fifth street, related a story with features equally as unusual as those in the case of Mrs. Hunt. Mrs. Noraberg also asserts that Cooper saved her from the surgeon's table. She had suffered for five years with rheumatism in both legs. Her ankles were badly swollen and so stiff and painful she could not walk. She could not stand on her stomach, and her kidneys were in such condition that her physician advised a surgical operation. Hearing of Cooper and his wonderful cures she wrote him, giving a full statement of her case. She felt better from the very first day she began taking the medicine he advised her to use. She can now eat any kind of food, her rheumatism has entirely disappeared, and her kidneys are in perfect condition.

Cooper, it is understood, declares he has discovered some new drugs with remarkable curative powers, and is demonstrating the ability of these drugs to overcome disease.

Indigestion and Dyspepsia Cured and Appetite Restored.

Mrs. Susie Morton, of 1307 So. 11th St., Birmingham, Ala., wishes every woman in the world to read what she knows of our medicine, and this is what she writes us under date of July 25, 1905: "I have improved wonderfully in health since using your Seven Barks and Globe pills. The Globe pills began to keep the bowels in good condition. Before using the Seven Barks I was troubled very much with indigestion and dyspepsia, but now I can eat anything and I am as strong as I ever was in my life. I hardly know how to thank you for the good your medicines have done me. I wish every woman in the world could read what I am now writing and be cured."

We've sold Seven Barks for years and don't know of a better remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. There's this much about it—it's been curing people of the worst forms of stomach troubles for 35 years, and when it ever fails to cure, the person has only to return the bottle (no matter how much or how little has been used) and get their money. It's more than likely that your case requires similar treatment. That of Mrs. Morton. Why not take Seven Barks and get cured? Deposit 50 cents with us, the price of a full-sized bottle, take it as directed, and if not perfectly satisfied with the results, we're here to refund the price.

Think you for one moment we'd risk our reputation on a remedy that hadn't already proven its efficiency? For Sale by Badger Drug Co.

MODERN REFORM.
The reform movement which is now going on throughout the country, championed by such leaders as Lawson, Bryan and La Follette and endorsed by theoretical writers, is so strongly tinged with socialism that it puts to blush the imported article.

The state of Illinois, like the state of Wisconsin, is having its first experience with a railroad rate commission. A new schedule of rates is already under consideration, which the companies declare is so unjust that it will result in hardship and retrenchment.

This means that the employees, who are a part of the general public, will suffer, and these men are so much concerned over the prospect, that they have united in an effort to stay proceedings, and allow the old schedule to remain in force.

The railroad reformers are not manufacturers. The most of them never saw a freight receipt, and yet they profess more knowledge of how the transportation business should be conducted than the men who have devoted a lifetime to the work. They would rob the railroads, and confiscate property if necessary.

The same spirit prevails in the ranks of corporation reformers. The men who through thrift and industry have amassed great fortunes, are branded as criminals, and tainted money is one of the great bugbears of the day.

It matters not how much money these men may give away, or how much they may pay out in wages, or for luxuries, they have no right to exist, and their ill-gotten gains should be taken away.

The atmosphere is heavy with this sort of rot, called reform. It is socialism pure and simple, and when the people wake up to the fact, as they will sooner or later, there will be a change of front and a new era of common sense will be ushered in.

There was a time, not so long ago, when Debs attracted a good deal of attention, but today he represents a mild type of fanaticism. The Dunces, and Darrows, and Sheas, eclipse him so completely that he has come to be regarded as a star of small magnitude.

The nation is suffering on account of an era of prolonged prosperity, and the soup-house and empty dinner pail may be necessary to usher in an age of reason and common sense.

It is an old saying that things are valued according to their cost. The boy who inherits a fortune seldom appreciates it, and knows nothing of the effort and sacrifice necessary to its accumulation.

This is true concerning life in every department. Socialism ingors this principle and it is both weak and dangerous on that account.

CHAINS OF BANKS.

The suspension of Charles J. Devlin of Topeka has caused two or three of his chain of banks to close their doors. This presents a most striking object lesson of the danger which is ever present in this latest development of banking. It is an old axiom that no chain is stronger than its weakest link. This hardly holds in the case of a chain of banks. This is no stronger than the dominant member of the group. Let that get into trouble and the whole combination is liable to collapse like a house of cards.

Many of these chains of banks have been created in recent years. A few of them are exceedingly powerful. They are a development of the concentration which is the most notable banking tendency of the time. Branch banking being generally prohibited in this country, the chain of banks has taken its place. The chain generally consists of one large bank or trust company with a number of small banks or trust companies, or both, affiliated with it, or having a common ownership, and all depending upon it. If the chain is very strong it stands to reason that the combination which is thus produced may perform a valuable service to the community, and in time of trouble be a breakwater against the approach of disaster. But even the strongest of such chains is not immune to accidents and mismanagement, and if once there was a mistake in judgment, or an over-reaching in business, the disaster would be all the greater because of the number of institutions which it would include and the wide stage of territory over which it would spread.

But whatever may be the advantage of such chains when made up of strongest material, great indeed is the danger when they are composed of a number of inadequately capitalized concerns created for the purpose of facilitating financial operations not strictly within the legitimate scope of banking, or for the special advantage of the chief owner of the group.

WASTEFULNESS OF STRIKES.
Statistics of strikes in France for the year 1904 have just been published by the bureau of labor at Paris. There were in all 1,026 strikes—nearly double the number of 1903. The strikers numbered 271,097 and were employed in 17,250 establishments. The loss of labor amounted to an average of eighteen days for each strikers. As an offset to the great increase in totals may be noted the short duration of strikes in 1904, of which 36 per cent lasted a week or less. Similarly the long-sustained dockers' strike at Marseilles makes the figures for last year look rather worse than they are. An innovation, for which the way had been paved in Italy, is the formation of agrarian unions, which have ordered on the vineyards and elsewhere no less than 129 strikes, affecting 10,515 employees. In more than half the cases a demand for higher pay caused the dispute; in about a quarter demands for the dismissal or restoration of laborers. The general wastefulness of the strike as a means of industrial reform is attested by the ratio of strikes that ended in a compromise, 28 per cent, or in a total failure, 23 per cent, to the 29 per cent that succeeded.

So it is to be decided at Madison who is to be republican candidate for governor and then it will break out through the state and be a spontaneous uprising of the people, hired people, for the choice of the administration.

The druggists at Madison have about decided that the Noble bill which was killed during the last legislature was really injurious. The newspapers knew that long ago and it was by their efforts it was beaten.

Will Harvey Clark be the next Superintendent at the School for the Blind and if he is will Mr. Kuerstermann find any rotten potatoes or cold hard boiled eggs that should not be thrown away.

This is corn weather and no mistake. The moon may be in apogee of the earth but something has happened to make the crops grow any way.

From the evidence at hand Mr. Kuerstermann is not much of a student or even a second rate poet.

Inflated values for property that are to be used for the public good do not help any city.

Is there a State Board of Control, or is there not? That is the question.

Everyone who can seeks some cool spot these warm days.

Mr. Showalter's letter has made the people of the state start thinking.

BRIDE DANCES FOR TWO DAYS

Pretty Marie Micka Earns $150 at Her Wedding Festivities.

Racine, Wis., July 14.—Marie Micka, belle of the Hungarian settlement of Racine and the bride of "Mike" Micka, is the envy of one of all the young matrons of the foreign element of the city. For many moons the young gallants of Hungarian society have longed to dance with Marie, but "Mike" guarded her with lowering brows, and it was not until the wedding feast was in full swing and the Hungarian custom of the bride dancing with the men guests for a silver coin was involved that their chance came. Marie danced two days and evening and when the money was counted she owned $150 and had tripped the Hungarian dances with 300 partners. "Mike" is reconciled. The $150 will furnish their modest cottage.

STREETS NOT KEPT IN SHAPE

REFUSE BLOCKS STORM SEWERS ON MAIN THOROUGHFARES.

SHOULD BE CLEANED OUT

Not Only Cleaned. But Kept Clean—Are Places Where Disease Will Breed.

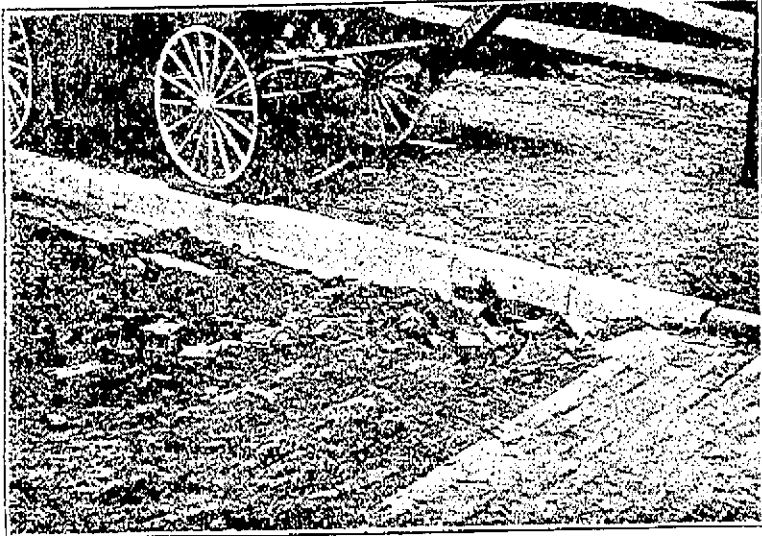

Janesville is spending considerable money on improvements on its main streets. For the past eight months South Main street has been more or less torn up—first the sewer, then sewer connections and then the pavement. Now all three are completed and the street is supposed to be finished. In Wednesday's issue of the Gazette a communication appeared which called attention to the careless manner in which the street-cleaning department were doing their work. An inspection of Main street south from Milwaukee will convince any person the kick was not misplaced.

Much Wreckage

With the sand which covers the bricks resembling the sands of the ocean so the term wreckage for the bits of wood, pieces of beams, old banana peelings, papers, bags, and the rest of refuse that has found locations in the gutters is not a misnomer. It is even worse further down the street in front of the park. This section was finished first and should have been cleaned first according to the laws of rotation. It is, however, neglected and has an unkempt appearance that is not pleasing to residents to show to visitors and gives those same visitors a bad idea of the city.

Hugs Rocks

In the gutters on both sides of the park on the hillside are piles of rock which deflect the water that would ordinarily run down the gutter into the street and both are in consequence badly washed. This wash has gone down and blocked the natural exits of the water into the storm sewers and they are clogged with refuse. The above cut is made from a photograph taken yesterday morning at the storm gutter on the west corner of the park at Park place. If you look carefully you will see in cans, broken boxes, papers, bits of stone, a cloth bag with coffee, which has lain there since the Fourth, pieces of broken stone and sand and dirt. Except for a small portion of the sewer opening, usually above the high water mark, the sewer is entirely closed. A few feet higher lies a pile of stone that has been there for nearly four weeks. The same is true of the gutter on the other side of the street, only the conditions are not so exaggerated as in this case.

Photograph taken yesterday morning at the storm gutter on the west corner of the park at Park place. If you look carefully you will see in cans, broken boxes, papers, bits of stone, a cloth bag with coffee, which has lain there since the Fourth, pieces of broken stone and sand and dirt. Except for a small portion of the sewer opening, usually above the high water mark, the sewer is entirely closed. A few feet higher lies a pile of stone that has been there for nearly four weeks. The same is true of the gutter on the other side of the street, only the conditions are not so exaggerated as in this case.

Not Sanitary

These conditions are not sanitary. It is not only the duty of the street commissioner to see that such conditions do not exist but it is also the duty of the health officer to prevent the spread of disease. They are unsightly to the eye and do not help spread the fame of Janesville as a good residence city to strangers who visit the park. The city has expended a large sum for paving and it is too bad to have the effect of this expenditure lost by such an unsightly refuse heap on its main street as is depicted above.

City Is Liable

It might perhaps be noted in this connection that the city may be liable to heavy damage suits should any one fall or step into the unprotected gutters at the crosswalks in the new pavement and break a limb. The fault with these gutters is apparent. They are too narrow for the amount of water they are supposed to carry off and the iron covers covering them are not wide enough. Already a good heavy rain partially flooded a cellar of a Main street merchant and a notice for damages is liable.

CIVIL SERVICE EFFECTS MANY STATE EMPLOYEES

CIGAR TALKS

How Can Smith Drug Co. Sell as Good a Cigar as the Chico for 5c? "You want me to talk about cigars?" said Mr. Smith of Smith Drug Co. to a Gazette reporter. "I think the better way is to let our cigars talk for themselves," he continued. "There is one cigar in our case, the 'Wadsworth Bros.' Chico, which is doing a lot of talking, even shouting. I consider myself fortunate in getting the agency for it, as it is really equal to any 10c cigar, and it costs only 5c.

"You see we buy it direct from the maker, and the middleman does not get any profit. At any rate, it is becoming the best seller in our case, and people who heretofore would have nothing but a 10c or even 15c cigar, ask for a Chico and say they like it. Better try one yourself and see how good it is."

THINKS JANESVILLE WILL BE IN LEAGUE

President Powers Visits City Last Evening and Says He Sees a Bright Prospect.

President Powers of the Wisconsin State Baseball league was a business visitor in Janesville last evening and found time to give his opinion of the prospect of Janesville getting into the state league next year. He says, though by her attendance at the league games which have been played here this city has not shown that a Janesville team would be an unequalled success the condition has been similar in other places, but the spectators are increasing in number steadily and by the end of the season will be doubled. His opinion is that Janesville will be in the race for a place in the league next year and there will be but little difficulty in raising the money to organize and maintain the nine.

DISTRICT SCHOOL MA'AMS TO INVADE

Rural Teachers of the County Come Here Monday Next to Study for Two Weeks.

Fully one hundred and fifty teachers from the rural schools of Rock county and young people who are planning to teach in the country districts this next year are expected to arrive in the city before next Monday noon to attend the Teachers' Institute which opens with a morning session on that day. Some teachers will attend summer school at Waite-water Normal or other places which study is equivalent in value, when standings are filed, to the institute work, while still others will depend for their certificates to teach, only on their present knowledge and ability in passing the examinations. There is a benefit to the teachers in attending the institute more than simply the extra training that they receive. The county superintendents are allowed to refile five of the fourteen required standings for each pedagogic and if he or she is regular at the institute the superintendent feels that they are entitled to receive these standings without examination. The leading conductor of the institute is Superintendent of Schools H. C. Buell of this city. He will be assisted by F. I. Doudna of Edgerton, R. J. Eddy of Sun Prairie and A. A. Upham of Whitewater, all educators known the state over.

LOST THUMB WHILE WORKING WITH RIP SAW YESTERDAY

Henry Funk Victim of Unfortunate Accident at Janesville Sash and Door Plant.
In attempting to dislodge a piece of lumber from the framework of a circular saw at the plant of the Janesville Sash and Door company on North River street yesterday afternoon, Henry Funk lost the first joint of his left thumb. As he was pulling on the obstructing stick it slipped and the sudden loosening of it allowed his hand to come in contact with the teeth. It was almost no time before the thumb was severed from his hand. Dr. McCarthy dressed the wound and found it necessary to remove one joint.

They have small tents which they use at night and enjoy the trip very much.
Finishing Main Street: The last of the brick pavement work on Main street was commenced this morning when the plow began digging up the wooden blocks between the car tracks and the macadam on North Main street. By three o'clock the blocks had all been loosened and were ready to haul away.

SUGAR BEETS NEED MORE CULTIVATION

Lafayette Myers Issues Word of Advice to the Sugar Beet Growers.

(By Lafayette Myers.)
On account of the continued wet weather but little work has been done in the beet fields the past week. It is remarkable, however, how large and healthy the plants are looking and every indication points to even a larger harvest than last season. The results of this year's crop will thoroughly demonstrate that the beets are here to stay. This will be the third year of growing them and the crop a successful one each year. The work in most of the fields is about finished and where the care has been thorough or nearly so, very few weeds are to be seen. Every grower, however, should go over his field once more and remove all grass and weeds that the late rains have started, thereby increasing the tonnage and also the sugar per cent. Likewise his bank account.

CENSUS RETURNS COMING IN SLOWLY

Evansville the First City to File a Complete Report—Town of Bradford Is In.

County Clerk Lee has received the first of the census returns for Rock county. The city of Evansville takes the honors for being the first to turn in a report, the second and fifth wards of Janesville the next and the town of Bradford the first town in the county. The figures have not yet been all computed and it will be several days before the loss or gain in population is known. The census enumerators are local in their dispositions and are local in their communications of the women who refused to answer their questions and compelled them in many cases to double on their work several times before being able to turn in a complete tabulation.

FOOLISH MAN

Janesville Merchant Criticized by the Milton Telephone.
The Milton Telephone says: "A Janesville store sent out two men in a rig the other day to advertise a special sale. The men drove through the country blowing bugle calls and 'howling out bills. The whole proceeding probably will not bring one penny of extra patronage to the store, while half the cost invested in legitimate newspaper advertising would have brought many patrons to the sale."
